Dear Hiring Manager, University Recruiter, Whova,

I am writing to express my interest in the Software Engineer Summer Intern position at Whova. I am incredibly excited about the opportunity to join the Whova team and make a meaningful impact on the company's mission to revolutionize event engagement and attendee networking.

In my recent-most internship, I was involved in creating and maintaining an AWS-based database and coming up with solutions to link their already existing user interface with the new faster backend. Following this, accompanied by the senior engineer, I co-pitched and demoed the company's product to a university. Specifically, I received acclaim for being on top of the deadlines while outperforming expectations and was assigned to do Code Reviews for newer interns.

I indeed find satisfaction in a job well done and want to solve head-scratching challenges. I understand the importance of working collaboratively; hence I am excited about working with the product and design teams to understand end-user requirements, formulate use cases, and then translate that into a pragmatic and practical technical solution.

I am eager to meet Eddie Zhu at the upcoming winter career fair at UCSD, and I am confident that besides my academic background and practical experience, my passion for problem-solving will make me an excellent fit for the Software Engineering at Whova.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I would appreciate the chance to discuss further my qualifications and how I can contribute to your team. Please feel free to contact me at your convenience by email (jjhaveri@ucsd.edu) or by telephone (+1 858 214 9192).

Sincerely,
Jay Jhaveri
